

Your council is changing

The new Wiltshire council will be receiving additional responsibilities in 2009. Before it does, we are carrying out a review and want to hear your views on how the new council should be made up.

How many councillors should there be?

Where is your local community?

What does community mean to you?

Which division should you be in?

Where should the boundaries of your division be?

Visit our website at www.boundarycommittee.org.uk to help us answer these questions, and more.

Your views count. Use this chance to have a say on the future of your new council.
